

RED CLOVER AT THE BAT

There are many dealers in Cigars, and there are many cigar buyers. In the various cigar houses the systems are different, but every buyer has but one object in view—to get good value for his money.

RED CLOVER is the best 5c Cigar on the market to-day. Manufactured by CELESTINO, COSTELLO & CO., York, Pa.

They all have had their innings,
But their day of hope is o'er;
Red Clover made the winnings,
Now the other fellow's sore.

Moral: He should have smoked RED CLOVER.

To lovers of a game of ball
This may seem a great big joke,
But, if you notice, base-ball cranks

They buy RED CLOVER.

When they go out strolling
With fair ones by their side,
They always smoke Red Clover;
It is the ladies' pride.

The ladies recommend RED CLOVER.

Everybody Likes RED CLOVER!

All Dealers Keep---No, Not Keep---They Sell RED CLOVER!

It is not a baking-powder joke when we say that RED CLOVER is an "absolutely pure" article.

GRAND LODGE IN SESSION

Between Five Hundred and One Thousand Knights of Pythias in the City.

The Degree Administered to Four Hundred—Reports of the Grand Officers—Growth of the Order—Pythian Sisters.

The gathering of the Knights of Pythias yesterday was not so large as it would have been had the session of the Grand Lodge not come in conjunction with the Minneapolis convention, but, as it was, between seven hundred and one thousand were here. About five hundred were present at the opening session yesterday morning, and out of that number about four hundred took the degree given in the forenoon. The warm weather made the work so considerably uncomfortable that one man fainted at the morning session. The report of the officers of the lodge of the State is very thorough. After the conferring of the degree yesterday morning, the reports of the grand officers were heard. Grand Chancellor E. F. Williams, of Terre Haute, submitted his annual address, which was especially instructive and full of suggestions touching on the initiation fee, the admission of new members, etc. He said:

But I very much fear that we are allowing our zeal to increase our membership, numerically, to blind to some extent, at least, our judgment and proper respect for the class of men out of which we should build up the order, numerically and otherwise. It is no longer enough to get, but whom should we take. Remember, brothers, that we are not a reformatory institution, primarily. Let men first reform, then come in, and not come in to be reformed. One good man is worth many bad men. Do not fear to use the black ball, but use it judiciously and with a right spirit. In no case use it as a vehicle of personal revenge. There is nothing so reprehensible as the use of the black ball "to get even" with an enemy. Pass no one simply because you can say of him, "He is a good-hearted fellow," but how does he stand with the order word?

The address recommended that the minimum admission fee in the order be raised to $20, believing that it would be the means of getting better men in the order. The Uniform Rank was paid a high tribute. It was recommended that some day in the month of August of each year we set aside and designate as Pythian day, the gathering to be held at Spring Fountain Park, Warsaw. The grand chancellor stated that during the year forty-two new lodges have been instituted and two old lodges reconstituted, increasing the number of active lodges in Indiana to 848 and the total number of members to nearly thirty thousand.

The report of the master of the exchequer, or treasurer, showed the amount on hand at the last report to be $12,823.10, and the amount received from Frank Bowers, C. K., $18,520.00. The total receipts were $31,343.10, and the amount paid out on vouchers $20,124.18, leaving a balance of $11,218.92 on hand. Secretary Frank Bowers' report covered the year's work. His report contained encouragement for the Order of Pythian Sisters. Relating to that order he said:

Active membership is confined to the wives, daughters, mothers and sisters of the members of the order of Knights of Pythias. Temples are increasing in numbers in Indiana and elsewhere, and the order is seemingly in a good condition. By request, and as a courtesy to the ladies, I present the condition of the order as reported on Dec. 31, 1891: Active, 2,102; non-active, 1,408; Dec. 31, 1891: Active, 1,955; non-active, 1,282; total, 3,237. Cash assets Dec. 31, 1891, $1,045.26. A number of temples have been organized in Indiana since Dec. 31, 1891.

The election of officers for the Grand Lodge took place in the afternoon. Dr. E. J. Stevens of Fort Wayne, was elected grand chancellor.

The representatives of the Grand Lodge attended Star Lodge No. 7, last night, where the third degree was conferred. The legislative work of the lodge will be done to-day.

Pythian Sisters.
A large number of Pythian Sisters arrived here yesterday to attend the meeting of the Grand Temple of their order in Lorraine Hall yesterday afternoon. The meeting is almost as large as that of their brother Knights, and enthusiastically conducted. This order is of recent birth, but is fast growing into a majority.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

The Pupils Give the Nineteenth Fortnightly Recital at Plymouth Church.

The pupils of the Indianapolis School of Music gave their nineteenth fortnightly recital at Plymouth Church last night. The church was nearly full of people, but the remarkable facilities this church has for ventilation made the atmosphere very pleasant. The programme presented Minnie Diener, James Curley, Laura Jones, Louis Dochez, Florence Huntington, Alma White, Carrie Stringer, William Estabrook, Summer Jones, Louis Neuberger, Mary Stringer, Francis Moffitt, Willie Mitchell, Lida Carnahan, Clarence Klenk, Augusta G. Austin, Anna McLaughlin and George Whittier. The efforts were all good, decidedly so, and especially was Florence Huntington's piano manipulation. James Curley is a coming man on the violin. "Play of the Midge," by Laura Jones, was skillfully performed. Anna McLaughlin exhibited a sweet voice, while the production of the quartet, composed of Alma White, Carrie Stringer, Mary Stringer, William Estabrook, Summer Jones and Louis Neuberger, was captivating. Every effort was both creditable and promising.

Ambulance Calls.

Perry J. Trout, a laborer forty-one years of age, employed at the Premier steel-works, was overcome by the heat about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Powers & Murphy's ambulance was telephoned for and removed him to his home, No. 211 Myer's street.

Elie Richardson, colored, was also overcome by the heat while working on a building back of Perry's wholesale grocery, on Georgia street. Powers & Murphy took him to his home, No. 207 Jefferson avenue.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME.

The Alumni Association of the Institute for the Blind Meets—The Programme.

The Alumni Association of the Indiana Institute for the Blind held its annual meeting last night in the institute assembly room. Nearly every seat was taken. The programme included a piano duet by Edward Brandkamp and George Hebble, an address by Superintendent Griffith, solo by Miss Florence Briggs, address by Luke Walpole, duet by Mesdames McKee and Raper, address by John B. Stoll, president of the board of trustees; piano solo, Edward Brandkamp; address by Quincy Carueth; recitation by Ora Rust; address by Reed Board; vocal duet, Alice Greenwood and Miranda Benson; address, Alexander Johnson, secretary of State Board of Charities; vocal solo, Mrs. Raper. The master of ceremonies was Daniel Funderburg, president of the alumni. The commencement exercises will occur to-morrow.

Fall from the Train.

John Tuttle, an employee of the New York store, while passing from one coach to another on a Big Four train en route to Chicago, lost his balance and fell from the platform near Colfax. Incl. Jack Morton, a friend of Tuttle's, jumped from the moving train and found him lying at the bottom of an embankment badly injured about the head. He was brought to St. Vincent's hospital and is said to be in a critical condition. His family lives at Chillicothe, O. The train was speeding along at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour when Tuttle fell off.

Mr. Hering Goes Away.

Mr. Rudolph Hering, the sewer expert, has gone to Sioux Falls, S. D., where he has a contract for devising a sewer system. Mr. Hering took with him data, maps, figures, etc., bearing on the proposed new system of sewerage in Indianapolis, and promised that he would complete and forward his report to the Board of Public Works without delay. Engineer Mansfield thinks the report will be here for submission to the board at its meeting Friday morning.

Peculiar Postscript.

Governor Chas. yesterday received a letter, unsigned and written at San Bernardino, Cal., May 31. The writer presumes that the Governor, holding an office that does not die, is familiar with every incident connected with the duties of the office. He says:

Dear Sir—I feel it a duty to confess to having committed a burglary of a postoffice, in company with another boy, in Boone county, in your state, in the year 1866 or 1867. We were put in Greene county jail to await trial, but we broke out and I have never been molested since. I am now on my way to Mexico, via El Paso, and if you wish to detain me you will not meet with any obstacle from me. If not, you will confer a favor by answering this letter to that effect, as I hope for clemency. You will please excuse my bothering you. My grounds for asking your pardon are youth, lack of religious training, false information, undesired disgrace to my relatives and disappointment to my friends. Hoping that God will bless you, I put myself on His and your clemency. Respectfully, P. S. If I leave here before you get this, I hope to register in all the Y. M. C. A.'s on the way.

It is not probable the penitent jail-breaker will be interfered with.
